- Strategy -

Playing The Political Game

The Strategy screen is displayed when a new turn begins. This screen lets you enact policies, stock battlefield tactics, station officers, and prepare for battle. Once you've issued your commands, select Proceed to move to the Battle screen.

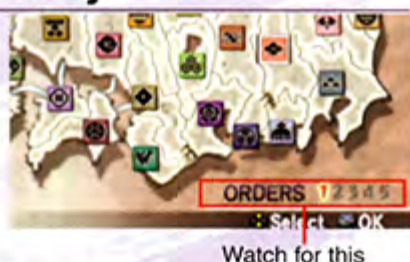

Strategy Commands

Consult	Enact policies and tactics suggested by clan officers (generals and lord).
Delegate	Select an officer to enact policy on your behalf. He or she will enact as many policies as the number of orders you have remaining.
Decree	Choose a single policy of your own and enact it.
Tactics	Choose a single tactic of your own and enact (store) it.
Formation	Choose a single formation of your own and enact (store) it.
Station	Change the position of your territory's officers.
Info	View assorted information (→ P.18).
Save	Save your progress in Empire Mode. You can have up to three saved games.

Remaining Commands and Money

You can choose Consult, Decree, Tactics, and Formation as many times as there are orders available in a single turn. You can execute more orders as your territory grows. At the start, it's best to use Consult to enact two policies with a single order. Most policies require money to enact. Your money increases with each turn; the exact amount depends on your wealth and rank (→ P.18).

Watch for Availability

At the start of the game, some special policies cannot be chosen in Decree, Tactics, or Formation. However, they will become available once enacted via Consult or Delegate. If a previously unexecuted policy is suggested in Consult, it will be marked with the word "Available."

The "Available" tag

Choosing a Policy

There are many options available to you in policymaking. Always try to take up the best policy for your current situation.

First, check your info

Before enacting a policy, select Info to check the status of clans, including your clan and adjacent clans. Make sure to compare officers and troop strengths before selecting the next fief to invade (→ P.18).

How should I start?

Even at the very beginning, you should have enough troops to immediately prepare for battle. The best strategy here is to obtain tactics and formations, then forge alliances (→ P.20). If you're short on officers, search for more personnel first (→ P.21).

What should I do after battle?

After a battle, your troops will be depleted, but you'll have more slots available to hire officers. You'll have a greater advantage with more officers and troops, so bring on more officers and restore your forces (→ P.21).

Experiment With Your Policies

If you're short on gold, use Domestic to get extra income or raise your harvest. Training policies can be used to raise your officers' stats without battle. You can also use Armaments to strengthen your weapons, or Plots to weaken your enemy's forces...Try out all your policies and see what happens.

Mitsunari Ishida

Information

Select Info to view a variety of information about your clan and opposing clans. This function does not require an order to execute.

Force Information

Rank	Your lord's rank.
Home	The fief where your lord is located.

Troops	The total number of troops under your allied officers.
Fiefs	The number of fiefs under your control.

Sword Lv. Spear Lv. Special Lv.	The smith level and points for each weapon type. Your smith level defines the maximum strength of the weapons you can equip in battle. Enact a Smith policy to raise your smith points; when they reach 100, you will gain a smith level. (Max: 5)

Fief Information

Harvest	This level will determine your seasonal income.
Defense	High defense makes it harder to lose in auto-battles and increases the number of redeployments in a defensive battle. Use Armaments policies to raise this.
Ronin	The number of ronin (unaligned officers) in this fief. Use a Personnel policy to hire them.
Special	The special traits of that fief. These traits may allow you to enact certain new policies (→ P.33). Events (disasters or plentiful crops) currently affecting the fief (→ P.32).
Disaster / Plenty	   Earthquake    Typhoon    Blizzard    Plague    Plenty

Watch Your Culture Level

Your culture level is raised via the Training, Smith or Trade policies, as well as special events like a new rank or trade with merchants or foreigners. As culture rises, the skills noted as fiefs' Specials rise in level, new policies are unlocked, and you become able to freely position officers before battle.

Other Information

The Info command also lets you view the following information:

◆ Mounts

Displays the level and abilities of your horses (→ P.33).

◆ Active / Tactics / Formations

Displays the effects of the policies available in battle during the current turn (Request, Invite Attack, etc) and your currently stocked tactics and formations.

◆ Alliances

Displays your allied clans and the remaining length of the alliance. Choose a clan from the map to display the clans it is allied with.

* "Superior" and "Inferior" alliances are formed by the Threaten policy. They have no time limit (→ P.20).

Preparing for Battle

Being prepared for battle at any moment will be key to your success. If you have enough officers and troops at hand, store up some tactics and formations and forge alliances with opponents you'd prefer to avoid fighting. If you lack officers or troops, concentrate on boosting those instead.

Storing Tactics and Formations

Tactics and formations (→ P.36) grant you various useful abilities that make your battles run more smoothly. You may stock up to five of each. Only two tactics can be used in a single battle, but all five formations can be used at will.

- * Tactics and formations are both "special policies". Use the Consult command to increase the number of each at your disposal.
- * Each stocked tactic and formation can only be used once.

Have at least two tactics prepared at all times, and you'll always be ready for battle.

Forging Alliances

An alliance not only reduces the danger of being invaded, but also allows you access to reinforcements via the Request command.

Don't want to fight a clan yet? Then forge an alliance as quickly as possible.

◆ Alliances by Force

If you succeed with the Negotiate policy Threaten, you will form a superior alliance with that clan. Subjugating clans like this allows you to unite Japan without destroying them (→ P.12) and invade other clans' fiefs from the inferior clan's ruling fiefs (→ P.24). There is no time limit to a superior alliance.

Hiring Officers

A lack of officers is a critical disadvantage in both offense and defense. If you have extra recruitment slots available, use Personnel policies to hire more officers.

If you have extra recruitment slots, fill them up with new officers.

◆ Number of Officers

The number of recruitment slots depends on the number of fiefs in your control. If you have a single fief, the max is three officers; this number increases as you conquer more fiefs (two per fief, if "Officer Limit" is set to "Normal").

- * You can check the number of slots available by selecting your own clan in Forces, via the Info command.
- * Lords, main Samurai Warriors 2 characters, and New Officers must be hired as generals. If the general slots are already full, you will need to release other officers or demote lesser officers to lieutenant.
- * The number of officers you can employ will not decrease if you are invaded and lose fiefs in battle.

Replenishing Troops

The troops at your officers' disposal are vital in deciding the fate of each battle. Your forces will be depleted after a fight, so enact a Troops policy to replenish them.

Always replenish your troops after the end of battle.

◆ Maximum force

The maximum number of troops that officers can control depends on their class. You can replenish an officer's troops as soon as his or her class is raised (for example, via Training (→ P.23)).

A Growing Nation

Once you have several fiefs under your belt, you'll need to pay close attention to how you position your officers. You'll also want to use your increased orders and gold to train your officers and raise your fiefs' harvests and defense.

Positioning Officers

Use Station to relocate an officer on the map. This command does not require an order to execute.

◆ Generals and Lieutenants

A single fief can hold up to 3 generals and 3 lieutenants.

Generals can suggest new policies via the Consult command. You always control generals in battle.

* Lords, main Samurai Warriors 2 characters, and New Officers (→ P.14) must always be generals.

◆ Officer Availability

Officers must be in or next to a disputed fief in order to participate in the battle's main force. They can also join if the only land between them and the disputed fief is owned by the inferior force of a superior alliance. Up to three generals and three lieutenants can join a battle. One more general and lieutenant can join the fight midway as reinforcements.

Set up your officers so you'll have as many as possible at your disposal for the upcoming battle.

◆ How to Position Officers

1. Select the fief which contains the officer you wish to move (Fief 1).
2. Select the space marked Fief 2, followed by the fief you wish to move the officer to.
3. Select the officer you wish to move.
4. Select a general or lieutenant space in Fief 2.
5. Select OK to complete the process.

- * If there is already an officer in the space you chose, the two officers will switch positions.
- * If you move an officer to an "Unplaced" space and select OK, you will relieve the officer from duty.

Educating Officers

Officers' levels determine their abilities and the number of troops they can command. Level is raised mainly by fighting in battle, but can also go up via Training policies. Training policies also raise officer skills and abilities.

* Training is available only after a certain level of culture (→ P.18) is attained.

Work on raising your lowest-level officers first.

◆ Training Types

Tea Ceremony	Raises officers' Life, Musou, and Dexterity. Also unlocks new skills.
Debate	Raises officers' Defense, Speed, and Luck. Also unlocks new skills.
Duel	Raises officers' Attack, Ride, and Luck. Also unlocks new skills.

Harvest and Defense

When you have acquired more orders per turn, try to raise your fiefs' harvests and defense. Harvest (raised via Cultivate and other Domestic policies) raises your seasonal income. Defense (raised via Fortify and other Armaments policies) makes your fiefs stronger in defensive auto-battles. It also increases the number of redeployments (→ P.34) and strengthens soldiers who defend bases.

You need to raise your Harvest to get more income.

Kanetsugu Naoe

From Regional to National

If you manage to complete a regional scenario before the year 1600, you will have the option to advance to the full national unification scenario.

If you unify a region other than Chubu, the number of officers you can employ will decrease in the national scenario. The game will automatically select which officers are dismissed if you have too many.

Empire Mode

- Battle -

Battle Phase

Once you finish the Strategy Phase and select Proceed, you will enter the Battle Phase. This is where you choose the type and location of your battles.

Battle Type/Location

You may participate in only one battle per turn.

* Select Proceed to continue without waging a battle.

Invalidate	Invade a neighboring clan's fief. You will take over the fief if you win.
Defend	Defend a fief from enemy invasion. If you do not join the battle, it will be fought automatically and the victor will be decided by troop strength and the fief's defenses. Lose, and the fief will be taken over.
Joint Attack / Help Ally	Send a single officer to an allied clan's offensive or defensive battle as reinforcement. Can be chosen only when an allied clan requests support. Win, and you will receive gold as compensation.

* You can also invade fiefs bordered by areas owned by inferior clans (→ P.20).

Select Officers

After choosing your battle type and location, you will need to organize your participating officers. Only officers in or adjacent to the disputed fief can join. Up to 3 generals and 3 lieutenants can participate, plus an extra general and lieutenant can be selected as reinforcements. You will control the commander of the main force, marked as 1P.

* Staging an invasion costs gold based on the officers' troop strength.

* Reinforcements will join the battle sometime after it begins.

The officer you control gains experience more easily than other officers.

Before Combat

After organizing your officers, you will be taken to the Info Screen. Select "Fight" to begin combat.

◆ Equipment

Choose Equipment to view your officer's attacks and equip weapons, horses, and skills.

* You can select more weapons when you have a smith level of 2 or 3 (→ P.18).

◆ Tactics

If you have tactics stocked up, you can select two for use in battle (→ P.20).

Special tactics can be used at any point during battle. To use them, select Tactics from the Info Screen when combat is paused (→ P.30). All other tactics automatically take effect at the start of battle.

* Only one Units tactic can be set at a time (except for Sorority).

* Conflicting tactics (e.g. Equal Start and Neutral Start) cannot be used simultaneously.

◆ Formations

If you have formations, you can select one here.

Formations raise the abilities of your allied force. Their effect may be blunted, however, if your enemy uses a formation of equal or greater strength.

* Formations are effective for five minutes. If the number of allied officers in the battle reaches two or below, the formation will fall apart, nullifying its effect.

* If you have unused formations and enough formation points (Pts.), you can change formations in the Info Screen (→ P.30).

◆ Officers (Place)

This lets you view info on your officers. Once your clan reaches a certain culture level (→ P.18), you will also be able to reposition officers.

* To reposition an officer, select him or her, followed by a base for that officer to start at.

* Some battlefields do not allow you to reposition officers.

Two-Player Game Screen

The screen is split in half in a two-player game.

Waging War

In combat, your job is to command your forces, take the enemy's bases one by one, and meet the predefined victory conditions.

Conditions

To conquer the enemy's main camp, you will need an unbroken chain of allied bases from your main camp to theirs. If time runs out, the defending side is the winner.

Victory Conditions	Defeat Conditions
Conquer the enemy's main camp. Defeat the enemy commander (lord).	The enemy conquers your main camp. Your officer is defeated.

* You can find out who the enemy's commander is in the Conditions section of the Info Screen.

Don't attack the enemy's main camp first! You'll never conquer it!

Conquering a Base

A base is conquered when all the captains and officers guarding the base are defeated by your allies. Conquering a base lowers your enemy's morale.

Allied Base	Enemy Base	Neutral Base
 Items appear at regular intervals in the base's center.	 Defeat all the base captains and officers guarding the base to conquer it.	 A base unaligned with either side. Whoever reaches it first takes it.

Expand Your Territory

Your territory is the area connected between your main camp and satellite bases. Your forces' battle ability rises when in your own territory, but the same also applies to enemies in their territory.

The map's blue area is your territory; the red area is the enemy's.

If you isolate an enemy base by cutting it off from its connection to the main camp, it will be weakened.

Directing Allies

You can issue orders to non-player officers at any time. Without orders, the officers will act on their own volition. If you guide your forces well, you'll receive a command bonus at the end of the battle.

* You can also send orders to officers in alliance with your clan.

◆ Army Orders

Give the same order to all allied officers with the directional buttons.

All Attack (Up)	Attack the nearest base. Orders return to Auto (see below) after conquering.
All Defend (Down)	Defend the nearest base.
All Gather (Left)	Allied officers come to the player's position.
Auto (Right)	Let your officers make their own decisions.

◆ Personal Orders

Select Officers (Order) from the Info Screen (START Button) and choose the officer you wish to direct.

Attack Base	Try to conquer the targeted base. Orders return to Auto after completion.
Attack Officer	Try to defeat the targeted officer. Orders return to Auto after completion.
Defend Base	Defend the targeted base.
Defend Office	Guards the targeted officer.
Auto	Let the officer make his own decisions.

* If you set the targeted ally to your character in Defend Officer, the officer will fight alongside you.

Taking Command

First off, have your officers defend the frontline bases while you fight and turn the tide of battle to your side. After that, order all forces to attack and go on the offensive. If you have an officer with high friendship (→ P.19), order that officer to guard your character and try to unleash some Multi-Musou attacks (→ P.9). When you're ready to wrap up, regroup your forces and strike the final, overwhelming blow!

Sakon Shima

◆ Info Screen

Press the START Button during battle to open the Info Screen. This screen lets you check your officers' positions and conquered bases. You can also issue personal orders (→ P.29), use tactics, retreat, or save the battle in progress.

◆ Use Tactics

If you have a Special Tactic set up, select this to use it.

* Tactics outside of the "Special" category will automatically take effect when combat begins.

◆ Use Formation

If you have an unused formation and enough Formation Points (Pts.), you can change formations here.

* Every formation has a level and type, which is strong or weak against other types. A formation will take effect only if it is stronger than the enemy's formation (→ P.36). Formations are effective for five minutes after selection.

◆ Retreat

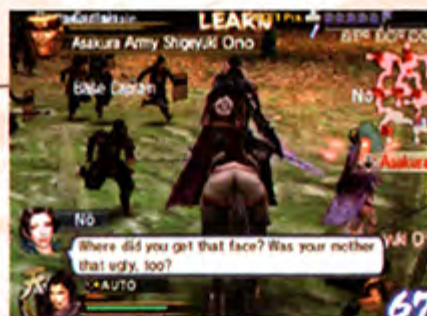

Retreat is equivalent to forfeiting the battle and is considered a loss. Your participating officers may also be captured by the enemy.

◆ Interim Save

Save the battle in progress. You can save up to three games.

◆ War Ability

Every officer has a unique war ability. Computer-controlled officers will use these at their own discretion. You can view these abilities in the Officer Information section of the Info Screen.

Strategists (→ P.32) have access to all War Abilities

◆ War Abilities

	Defend	Raises the defense of the officer's unit.		Rally	Raises the attack power of the officer's unit.
	Speed	Raises the speed of the officer's unit.		Tempt	Lures enemy officers toward you if successful.

End of Battle

After a battle, you'll view your character's earned experience and any new skills or moves earned during the battle.

◆ Battle Grade

There are six ranks to a battle: Total Victory, Victory, Narrow Victory, Narrow Defeat, Defeat, and Utter Defeat. This is based on the ratio of allied/enemy losses and the amount of time used. You will also receive battle spoils based on your rank, defeated officers, and conquered bases.

◆ Raising Your Officer

Your character will receive experience based on clear time, defeated officers, conquered bases, and the total bonus. You will get a grade (Star, A, B, C or D), and your class and basic stats will rise.

* Bonus points are awarded for using certain tactics, skills, and mounted abilities.

◆ Upgrading Weapons

You can enhance your weapon here. Choose a weapon effect from the battle spoils you earned, and move it to an effect space in your weapon.

◆ Results

If your side wins the battle, all allied officers will also gain experience. The points they receive are determined by the number of your losses and the command bonuses earned.

* Command bonuses are awarded for effective direction on the battlefield (⇒ P.29).

Ranmaru Mori

Victory and Defeat

◆ When you win...

Win an invasion, and you'll be able to hire more officers, including any captured enemy officers. But, this requires money.

◆ When you lose...

After a loss, captured officers may be hired by the opposing side. If you lost a defensive effort, you will also lose the fief that was attacked.

Strategy

Special Events

Events sometimes occur at the beginning of a turn.

◆ Types of Events

Earthquake	Drastically reduces defense.
Typhoon	Reduces harvest and defense.
Blizzard	Battles cannot be waged during a blizzard.
Plague	Reduces your troops but affects only one year.
Plenty	Increases income.

◆ Visitors

The occasional special visitor may also trigger events.

Imperial Envoy	Grants a rank, raising income.
Merchant	Use gold to trade with merchants.
Foreigner	Use gold to trade with foreigners.

◆ Rebellion

If there is a civilian rebellion in your territory, you must choose to resolve it with money or suppress it. Choosing to suppress it will throw you into battle. You will win the battle if you defeat a given number of enemies within the allocated time. Officers who successfully suppress rebellions will receive bountiful experience.

◆ Strategists and Guardians

In certain events, one of your officers may be named a strategist or guardian. Strategists may use any war ability during a battle (unless they are being controlled by you). If a guardian enters battle in the main force, the number of redeployments available is doubled. Multi-Musou attacks with guardians also give you an extra speed bonus.

- * Different clans may have different names for guardians in events.
- * You can check to see which officers are strategists or guardians in the Officers section of the Info command (→ P.19).

Strengthening Weapons

Weapons can be strengthened by either upgrading them or raising their smith level.

◆ Upgrading Weapons

You may pick up extra weapon effects as battle spoils after a fight (→ P.31). Put them in an effect space on your weapon, and they will take effect in the next battle.

◆ Raising Smith Levels

Use a Smith policy (e.g. Swordsmith) to raise your smith points. Every time you accrue 100 points, your smith level will rise (max: 5).

- * When your smith level is 4 or above and you satisfy certain conditions, you may acquire a fourth-level weapon after the battle.

Good Policy, Bad Policy

Enact "good" policy that makes your people happy, and civilians will join your troops in defensive battles, raising your strength. Keep it up, and your "bad" policy choices will be replaced with high-level "good" policies (e.g. Benefaction).

Enact "bad" policy that makes your people suffer, and civilians will join the enemy in defensive battles. Keep it up, and your "good" policy choices will be replaced with high-level "bad" policies (e.g. Confiscation).

Officer Friendship

Your officers' friendship increases when you have them enact policies and send them out to battle. Friendly officers can join in Multi-Musou attacks during battle when they are nearby (→ P.9).

Fief's Special Traits

You are able to enact some policies depending on the Special traits of the fiefs under your control (→ P.18).

◆ Special Policies

Certain Traits can unlock Negotiation policies like Shop, Chinese Trade, Western Trade, and Request Rank; Domestic policies like Mine; and Armaments policies like Find Mount. The Shop lets you earn skills, recruit ronin, and buy and sell mounts. Mine, Chinese Trade, and Western Trade can earn you a fortune if you're lucky.

◆ Acquiring and Raising Mounts

You can buy mounts at the Shop, but if you own a fief with a Horse Habitat, you can also capture them yourself. You can raise your mounts' abilities by training them or putting them through battle.

* To ride a mount into battle, select one for your officer in the Equipment section of the Info screen before combat begins.

* A mount's level is maxed at 10.

◆ Special Traits and Tactics

Some Special traits let you execute certain tactics for less money. For example, conquer a fief with a "Gunsmith" trait, and you can stock the Musketeers tactic for half price.

◆ Clan Skills

Every fief has one Special trait that serves as a clan skill. These skills can be automatically equipped to all officers of the clan that owns the fief.

* Clan skills can also be earned in trade or interaction with merchants or foreigners.

* If a clan skill's level outclasses an officer's acquired level, it will be displayed in blue.

Battle

Officer Redeployment

Defeated enemy officers return to the battlefield after a certain time. An officer will not return if defeated when his or her troops are depleted, or redeployments fall to zero. You earn more redeployments by increasing the size of your force or by defending a fief with high defense. Also, if a guardian is the general of the force, your redeployment number is doubled.

Redeployments

Capturing Officers

In battle, you'll occasionally capture an enemy officer you've defeated. After the battle, you must choose whether or not to hire the officer.

* Gold is required to hire a captured officer. Some officers will never agree to join your side.

◆ How to Capture an Officer

Defeat the officer when his or her troops are decimated. / Defeat the officer after isolating him or her in your territory. / Use the Capture tactic.

* You cannot capture officers from reinforcement forces.

Officers flashing red around their heads will always be captured if you defeat them.

Items Found in Battle

Items can appear after defeating officers and soldiers. They also show up regularly in the center squares of bases. You can refill your officer's life with items during battle. Refilling your life lowers your troop numbers, though, so be careful!

◆ Healing

	Mini Rice Ball	Life +20		Dumplings	Life +50		Rice Tub	Life MAX
	Rice Ball	Life +100		Rice Balls	Life +200		Sake Cask	Life/Musou MAX
	Mini Musou Sake	Musou +20		Musou Sake	Musou +1 level

◆ Temporary Ability Boosters

	White Blade	Attack doubled		Bronze Mirror	Musou Gauge MAX
	Ancestral Armor	Defense doubled		Spirit Mirror	Musou Gauge MAX
	War Sandals	Speed doubled

* The Bronze Mirror lasts five seconds; the Spirit Mirror lasts 10 seconds. All other items last 30 seconds.

Fluctuations in Morale

Officers with high morale will have better ability in battle with their forces. Morale goes up gradually once battle begins; after it hits maximum for a while, it drops back down to a "base level" before rising once more. This base level depends on the total size of your force.

◆ Morale Shifts

Morale Boost	Morale Hit
Whenever you pass 50 KOs, 100 KOs, etc.	An officer is defeated. / A base is taken. / You are fighting in enemy territory.

Elemental Attacks

If you have an elemental weapon equipped you can unleash elemental attacks when you pick up the Element or Ele-Charge skills. The skill level determines the level of the effect.

* Weapon elements can be acquired as battle spoils.

◆ The Five Elements

	Fire	Wrap the enemy in flame for long-lasting damage.
	Lightning	Shoot electricity and damage multiple enemies at once.
	Ice	Freeze your opponent, temporarily immobilizing them.
	Wind	Damages opponents even when they are guarding.
	Demon	May defeat any non-officer enemy with one hit.

Acquiring Skills

Officers can pick up a variety of skills that will help them in battle. Earn them by raising officer levels, learning them from enemies in battle, buying them from the shop, or through Training policies.

- * Personal Skills can only be earned by raising level.
- * Training allows officers to earn clan skills (⇒ P:33) or the skills of their opponents.
- * Acquired skills can be deactivated in the Skills section of Equipment on the Info Screen.

◆ Learning Skills

It is possible to learn skills from officers you defeat in battle. You can see what skills you've learned when the battle is over.

◆ How to Learn Skills

Lower-level skills are easier to learn. / Defeat the officer quickly without getting hit. / Raise the level of your Prodigy skill to make it work more often.

Table of Formations

Formation	Level	Pts.	Effect	Suggested By...

Wheel	Speed Lv. 3	180	Raises allies' speed and morale recovery.	Kenshin Uesugi, Kanetsugu Naoe

* Change formations by pressing the START Button to bring up the Info Screen and selecting Formations.

Use your formations!

Every formation has a level and type (→ P.25). If two competing formations are the same level, attack wins over mobility, mobility wins over defense, and defense wins over attack. If your formation is inferior, you'll have a tough time in battle. If you're stuck without a suitable formation, attack the enemy's officers -- their formation will fall apart when they have only two left.
