SETTING UP FOR ONLINE PLAY

Ghost Recon 2 online functions only through a broadband (DSL or cable modem) connection.

NETWORK CONFIGURATION

A memory card (8MB)(for PlayStation®2) with a valid network configuration file is required to play Ghost Recon 2 online. Before playing online, a valid network configuration file must be created and saved to the memory card (8MB) (for PlayStation®2) using your Network Adaptor Start-Up disc, which is supplied with your Network Adaptor (Ethernet/Modem)(for PlayStation®2).

NETWORK ADAPTOR (ETHERNET/MODEM) (FOR PLAYSTATION®2)

Install the Network Adaptor (for PlayStation®2) into your PlayStation®2 game console according to the instructions in its Instruction Manual.

Caution: Unplug the AC power cord on your PlayStation®2 console before adding any networking equipment to the system.

Ports 3500, 3658, 6779, 45000, 45001, and from 55301–55308 are used (in UDP protocol) by the game for the connection to ubi.com™. Ports 80, 443, 6668, 40000, 40100–102, 42000, and from 51012–51020 are used (in TCP protocol) for the connection to ubi.com. So, if you have a firewall, you must open these ports. If you use a router with a unique IP address, you must route these ports to your PlayStation®2 console.

TROUBLESHOOTING

If a connection to the network cannot be established:

- The AC power cord for the PlayStation®2 console is not fully inserted into the AC IN connector. Check that the AC power cord is fully inserted into the AC IN connector.
- The Network Adaptor (for PlayStation®2) is not properly installed in the PlayStation®2 console. Check that the Network Adaptor (for PlayStation®2) is properly installed.
- The network is busy. Wait a few minutes, and try to access the network again.
- Check that the network cable is properly connected.

USB HEADSET (OPTIONAL)

In single-player mode plug any USB headset into one of your PlayStation®2 USB ports to become a real field operative. Once equipped, you can speak directly to your teammates, who will carry out your orders.

In multiplayer mode, the USB headset allows you to chat with your teammates or with observers (during gameplay), and with all the players in the game session in the session lobby. This is an optional feature and is not required to play the game, but you will be more efficient if you can play as a part of a team.

The USB headset connects to either one of the USB (Universal Serial Bus) connectors located on the front of your PlayStation®2 console. With the USB symbol facing up, insert the cable into one of the USB connectors. Set up your PlayStation®2 system to connect over the Internet.

INTRODUCTION

The Ghosts are an elite U.S. Special Forces unit using the most advanced technology the United States has to offer. They are the first unit deployed in dangerous situations and the last ones to leave when things get rough.

Get ready for edge-of-your-seat action and challenging tactical gameplay. Prepare to put your senses to the test against terrifying new threats to world peace and security. The fate of the world just might depend on you.

THE STORY

The year is 2007. After a U.S. ship is mysteriously sunk in the Sea of Japan, tensions between North Korea and the United States of America reach a breaking point. As enemy soldiers advance towards the DMZ (demilitarized zone), the United States decides to adopt a purely defensive position against North Korea, in the hopes of defusing the crisis in time. Officially, no American soldier is deployed in North Korean territory ... But the Ghosts have no official existence.

The Ghosts are the only unit deployed behind North Korean enemy lines. Their mission: to undermine the invasion of South Korea, bringing the North Korean war machine to a halt. The fate of the Korean peninsula, and perhaps the world, rests on their shoulders.

CHARACTERS

You are Captain Scott Mitchell, squad leader of the Ghost team, deployed deep behind enemy lines. The lives of your eight teammates are in your hands. They are:

Rifleman Jennifer Burke

Gunner Nick Salvatore

Rifleman Joe Ramirez

Gunner Marcus Brown

Grenadier Derrick Parker

Marksman Alicia Diaz

Grenadier David Foster

Marksman Mike Kim

MAIN MENU

PROFILES

The first step is to update the game's database so it can store information about your progress. This is done with a profile, saved on a memory card (8MB) (for PlayStation®2). Each profile can contain up to six unique characters, along with info on the campaigns in which they are involved.

To create a profile, select New Profile. Enter a name for your hero that is no longer than 10 characters. Press the button to confirm your input and the button to delete it. Press the button to validate the name and go back to the Main Menu.

You can also edit an existing profile by selecting Edit Profile. Here you can change the profile name and other settings. You can also reconfigure your controller.

Your profile details will be automatically saved upon returning to the Main Menu.

Note: Tom Clancy's Ghost Recon 2 only supports MEMORY CARD slot 1. You will be given the opportunity to save game progress to a memory card (8MB) (for PlayStation®2) on completion of each level.

BEGINNING A MISSION

BRIEFING

Mission Information

Before starting a new mission, you will be briefed on its conditions, parameters, and objectives. You can skip the briefing text if you want.

Objective List

A list of main objectives will be displayed, together with visual information on the locations of your targets. Some examples of objectives are:

- Eliminate your enemies.
- Sabotage hostile structures.
- Recon an enemy site.
- Rescue a VIP.

Debriefing

After each mission, an AAR (After-Action Review) screen will present you with a score telling you how well you did in the completed mission, along with a preview for the next chapter of action.

INTO THE ACTION

PLAYER SETUP

Weapon Selection

Each Ghost team leader will have four weapon slots. Slot 1 is for your primary weapon. Slot 2 is for your sidearm. In slot 3 you can carry a special weapon such as a Ranger to deal with enemy vehicles. Slot 4 holds grenades. To select a weapon, highlight a slot, press the L1 button to scroll, and press the R1 button to select.

Squad Details

Check out who is on your team in the mission and adapt your strategies to make the most of their special abilities.

HUD INTRODUCTION

Reticle

Your reticle should be the focus of your attention. It shows you where to aim and shoot. Different reticles match different classes of weapons in your arsenal. Each reticle consists of two parts: the center component and the pips. The center shows where you are currently aiming. The pips are small lines that represent your range of accuracy at any given moment. The longer you focus on a particular target, the closer to the center of the reticle the pips move and the more accurate your fire is. Any shots you fire will hit somewhere within the area delimited by the pips.

Radar

The radar is at the top-right corner of the screen. Enemies within the range of the radar will appear as red dots, and friendly forces will appear as green dots. The direction in which you are currently facing will also be shown on the map.

Command Signs

The status of your teammates and your currently issued command will be displayed at the top-left corner of the screen.

Weapon Info

You can view how much ammo you have left and how many clips you still possess at the bottom-right corner of the HUD. The shooting mode of your weapon is also displayed here.

Reference Map

The reference map is triggered by pressing the L1 button. It is a bird's-eye view of the territory where your team is deployed and is marked by landmarks and critical structures. The next objective will be flagged on the map and explained at the bottom of the map.

CONTROL YOUR HERO

Walk and Run

Press the left analog stick up and down to walk forward and backward. Press the left analog stick left and right to sidestep. Those movements do not change the direction the character is facing. To look around and change your direction, move the right analog stick around. Moving the right analog stick changes the direction the character is facing, but will not move the character.

To run, press the left analog stick to the maximum angle while moving forward. Running increases your speed and also decreases your accuracy.

Zoom

You can zoom in with most of your main and side arms. Zooming in will provide you with more detailed images of your target, but your sight coverage will be largely reduced at the same time, especially when you are handling a sniper rifle with a powerful magnifying scope. Press the R3 button to zoom.

Stances

There are three stances you can take in Ghost Recon 2: upright, crouched, and prone. The higher your stance is, the faster you can move, but the more likely it is that enemies will find you and shoot you. Press the down directional button to lower your stance and the up directional button to move to a higher stance.

Peeking

Firing Modes

By pressing and holding the Firing Mode button, you can choose your firing mode as single shot, small burst, three rounds, or fully automatic. Options might be limited to specific weapons. To choose a firing mode, press and hold the Firing Mode button and choose the direction of the desired firing mode with the directional buttons or left analog stick.

Actions

There are a number of important actions that occur frequently in the game world. By pressing the Action button (the \otimes button), you can pick up a gun left by the enemy, man a mounted machine gun, plant a demolition kit, or rescue a hostage.

Night Vision

Night vision is vital in dark environments. Press the View button (the \square button) to toggle to your night vision goggles and gain the advantage in night combat.

COMMAND YOUR MEN

As they enter a challenging mission, your squad will expect you to act as a leader and issue the right commands at the right time and place.

The target of your order is always framed by your reticle. For instance, if you point your reticle at an enemy and issue the Suppress command, your squad will suppress that enemy. To select an order, press and hold the Command button (the \triangle button), then select the desired order with the directional buttons or left analog stick. Possible orders are:

- Quick Order: When certain targets are within your reticle, simply pressing the Quick Command button will issue a target-related order to the team member who is closest to the target or the most capable of carrying out the order.
- Advance: Send two teammates to a desired location. Although they are perfectly capable of defending themselves, make sure not to send them into areas that are too dangerous or exposed.
- Suppress: Order the entire team to unleash full firepower upon the enemies in the covered arc. You could take the chance to flank your enemy.
- Fragmentation: While one of your teammates is suppressing the enemies, the rest of the squad will simultaneously throw grenades at the enemy line. This can be a dramatically effective attack, but be careful of exposing your teammates.
- Scout: Send one of your teammates to check out the area ahead. This can prevent you from being ambushed.
- Regroup: Call your teammates to gather around you before you decide the next course of action.
- Hold: Tell your teammates to hold their position when you need them to stay put so you can act on your own.

Voice Commands

If you have a compatible microphone, you can give orders to your team simply by holding the Voice Control button (the R2 button) speaking your command into the microphone. For instance, you can just say, "Go!" and your team will move out.

The available voice commands are:

- Advance command: "Move out!"
- Suppress command: "Covering fire!"
- Fragmentation command: "Grenade!"
- Scout command: "Take Point!"
- Hold command: "Hold position!"
- Regroup command: "Regroup!"

Pause

Pressing the START button while you're in the middle of a mission will call up the Pause menu. You can choose to resume the mission, restart the mission, or abort the mission and return to the Main Menu.

QUICK MISSION: LONE WOLF MODE

In Lone Wolf mode, you have no one to watch your back. However, equipped with the most advanced individual combat weaponry to date, you still have unrivaled superiority in your confrontations with small groups of enemies.

Your high-accuracy, high-ammo-capacity automatic rifle comes with a 6x scope and is mounted with an air-burst grenade launcher, allowing you to even blow up enemies in their shelters. If the mission objectives call for it, you can call for air strikes to wreak havoc upon enemy vehicles and installations.

QUICK MISSION: FIREFIGHT

In Firefight mode, you can progress through a campaign map without worrying about mission objectives. Your mission is simple: eliminate all enemies from the map. The mission ends once you have killed all the enemy units.

GAME MODES

Ghost Recon 2 offers three different online game modes. In all modes, two teams are pitted against each other.

Last Man Standing

This is a deathmatch-style game. The last team with members alive wins. If time runs out with members from both teams still on the map, the game ends in a draw.

Assault

One team attacks while the other defends itself. Several defensive lines structured around one or several defensive positions divide the battlefield. The attacking team must progress through the defensive lines by capturing defensive positions. Once a defensive position has fallen, the defending team cannot recapture it and must retreat to defend the next defensive line. Once the attacking team has captured all the defensive lines, it can win by capturing the defending team's base. The defending team wins if it can stave off the assault for the set duration of the game.

Supremacy

Two teams fight to gain ultimate supremacy on the battlefield. Each team must attack to advance and win, while at the same time defending its positions. The battlefield contains several defensive positions linked by a computer network. Each team must find a way from its base to the other team's base via connected defensive positions.

A defensive position may only be taken by a team if it is open; in other words, if it can be linked to its own base. To take it, a team member must hack its computer. Each team must defend any of its defensive positions that are open to attack by the other team.

A team wins if it completes a link across the battlefield, from its base to the opponent's base. If the time expires before either team has gained supremacy, the game will end in a draw.

Without an RMA number from a support representative, your replacement request will not be processed.

IF WE DETERMINE A RETURN OR REPLACEMENT IS NECESSARY:

Within the 90-Day Warranty Period: Please return the product (media only) along with a copy of the original sales receipt, showing the date of purchase, a brief description of the difficulty you are experiencing including your name, address (no PO boxes) and phone number to the address below. If the product was damaged through misuse or accident (cracks, scratches), or if you do not have a dated sales receipt, then this 90-day warranty is rendered void and you will need to follow the instructions for returns after the 90-day warranty period.

After the 90-Day Warranty Period: Please return the product (media only) along with a check or money order for the amount corresponding to your product (see replacement fees below) made payable to Ubisoft, a brief description of the difficulty you are experiencing, including your name, address (no PO boxes), RMA number, and phone number to the address below.
