Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these "photosensitive epileptic seizures" while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms— children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions: Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

ESRB Game Ratings

The Entertainment Software Rating Board (ESRB) ratings are designed to provide consumers, especially parents, with concise, impartial guidance about the age-appropriateness and content of computer and video games. This information can help consumers make informed purchase decisions about which games they deem suitable for their children and families.

ESRB ratings have two equal parts:

• Rating Symbols suggest age appropriateness for the game. These symbols appear on the front of virtually every game box available for retail sale or rental in the United States and Canada.

• Content Descriptors indicate elements in a game that may have triggered a particular rating and/or may be of interest or concern. The descriptors appear on the back of the box next to the rating symbol.

★★ BATTLE

THE BATTLE SCREEN
❶ Health Gauge
Displays the character's health, which decreases when the player is attacked. The gauge contains several icons called Health Stocks, which decrease by one every time the Health Gauge falls to zero.

❷ Health Stock
Displays the remaining number of Health Stocks. If the number of stocks falls to zero and the final Health Gauge is fully depleted, the character will be knocked out and lose the battle.

❸ Ki Gauge
Displays the character's Ki. Ki is depleted every time the character uses Ki Blasts, Dashes, and Super Attacks. The character's Ki can be recovered by charging or by successfully landing attacks. *Ki will also recover on its own up to a certain point if enough time passes.

❹ Character Icon
This flashes red once the character's health is reduced to one gauge.

❺ Timer
Displays the amount of time remaining for the battle. The timer will only be displayed once the remaining time begins to run out. When the time reaches 00:00, the battle ends, and the character with the greater amount of health remaining is declared the winner.

❻ Combo Counter
Displays the number of hits in the current combo.

❼ Damage Counter
Displays the amount of damage caused by attacking.

About Connection Quality

You can check the quality of your opponent's connection using the icon that is shown on the battle room screen and search results screen.

Poor Connection   Normal Connection   Good Connection

- Air Combo – After a Smash Attack: High, press Ⓐ, ⓧ, ⓧ, ⓧ, ⓧ while in midair
  Perform a Rush Attack in midair that slams your opponent into the ground.
- Follow-Up Attack – Knock opponent back, Homing Dash, ⓧ; ⓧ right after knocking opponent back with a Charge Attack
  Follow-Up Attack 1: Use a Homing Dash to track down your opponent after knocking them backwards, then perform a follow-up attack.
  Follow-Up Attack 2: Catch up to opponent in an instant after knocking them back with a Charge Attack, then perform a follow-up attack.
- Blow Exchange/Shot Exchange – Rotate the left stick
  If you and your opponent crash into each other when dashing, you will engage in a Blow Exchange; if two Ki Blasts crash into each other, you will engage in a Shot Exchange. The player that can rotate the left stick on his or her controller faster than his or her opponent will win the skirmish.
- Transformation and Switch-Out – 🔲 + Ⓨ, Ⓑ, Ⓐ, or ⓧ Transformation: After selecting a character that can transform, press and hold 🔲 during battle to bring up the Transformation Palette. While continuing to hold down 🔲, press a button that corresponds to a transformation to use Ki and transform.

Switch-Out: When fighting team battles, press and hold 🔲 to bring up the Switch-Out Palette. While continuing to hold down 🔲, press a button that corresponds to the character with whom you would like to switch. If you choose a character whose icon is glowing, the switch will be made instantly and the new character can even pick up attacking and continue a combo without missing a beat.
*You cannot select a character whose icon in the palette is dark.

Fusion: If you have a character you can fuse with on your team while fighting a team battle, press and hold 🔲 during the battle to bring up the Fusion Palette. While continuing to hold down 🔲, press a button that corresponds to the character with whom you would like to fuse with.

*To navigate between the Transformation, Switch-Out, and Fusion Palettes, use the D-pad ← and →.

■ High-Speed Blow Exchange
– Press the buttons shown on the screen
The moment your opponent performs a Switch-Out, a button icon will be displayed on the screen. If you can press the corresponding button in time, you will engage in a High-Speed Blow Exchange. When another button icon appears, press it to knock back your opponent with a powerful attack immediately after they have switched. If you fail to press the correct button, you will miss your attack and get knocked back instead of your opponent.
*You will not be able to engage in High-Speed Blow Exchange when your opponent performs a quick Switch-Out.

BATTLE TECHNIQUES ~DEFENSE~

■ Defense – Hold down ⓇⒷ
While holding down ⓇⒷ, you will block your opponent's attacks and reduce the damage you receive.
*Some attacks, such as Smash Attack: 2 and Super Attacks, cannot be blocked.

■ Sway – ⓇⒷ + ⓧ
Move your upper body left and right to evade your opponent's attacks. Press the ⓧ repeatedly to continue to sway.

■ Vanishing – ⓇⒷ + Ⓐ

If You Don't Find an Opponent
This is the situation that occurs if no fitting opponents are found online. It's a smart idea to create a room in Create Match (page 29) and recruit would-be opponents that way.

About Battle Points and Ranks
When fighting ranked matches, your battle points will fluctuate depending on your skill. If you win, they will increase. However, if you lose, the points will decrease. The more battle points you possess, the higher your rank will be. Ranks range from H to A++ with all new players beginning at H.
About Hosts
The player that created the battle room is known as the host. In this game, the host will play as 1P most of the time. If the host leaves the room, the room will disappear. The only exception is for the World Tournament, where one of the remaining players will be made into the new host.
